History

The Tennessee Higher Education Commission was created in 1967 by the Tennessee General Assembly to achieve coordination and foster unity with regard to higher education. The Commission coordinates two systems of public higher education: the University of Tennessee institutions governed by the University of Tennessee Board of Trustees, and the state universities, community colleges, and technology centers governed by the Tennessee Board of Regents. There are currently nine public universities, 13 community colleges, and 27 technology centers in Tennessee that serve over 270,000 students collectively. Tennessee's independent institutions (non-profit and for-profit) bring statewide enrollment for Fall 2011 to more than 415,000 students.

The Commission is composed of nine lay members appointed by the Governor for six year terms representing congressional districts of the State, three Constitutional Officers who are ex-officio voting members (Comptroller of the Treasury, State Treasurer, and Secretary of State), two ex-officio student members who serve two year terms, and the Executive Director of the State Board of Education as an ex-officio non-voting member.

Current Context

In January 2010, the General Assembly passed the Complete College Tennessee Act (CCTA), a comprehensive reform agenda that seeks to transform public higher education through changes in academic, fiscal and administrative policies at the state and institutional level. At the center of these reforms is the need for more Tennesseans to be better educated and trained, while also acknowledging the state's diminished fiscal capacity to support higher education.

The overarching goal of the 2010-15 Public Agenda for Tennessee Higher Education is to have Tennessee meet the projected national average in educational attainment by 2025. The primary state policy levers for addressing the state's educational needs include promoting: (1) productivity and efficiency through an outcomes-based funding formula; (2) quality assurance through revised performance funding standards; (3) economic and workforce development through responses to a study of labor market supply and demand; (4) efficiency and effectiveness through purposeful reporting; (5) efficiencies through mission and sector differentiation; (6) efficiencies through inter-institutional collaboration and reduced duplication; and (7) efficiencies through incentives for extramural support.

Enrollment:
407,599

Source: THEC Student Information System (THEC SIS), THEC Postsecondary School Authorization, TN Board of Regents (TBR), TN Independent Colleges and Universities Association (TICUA)

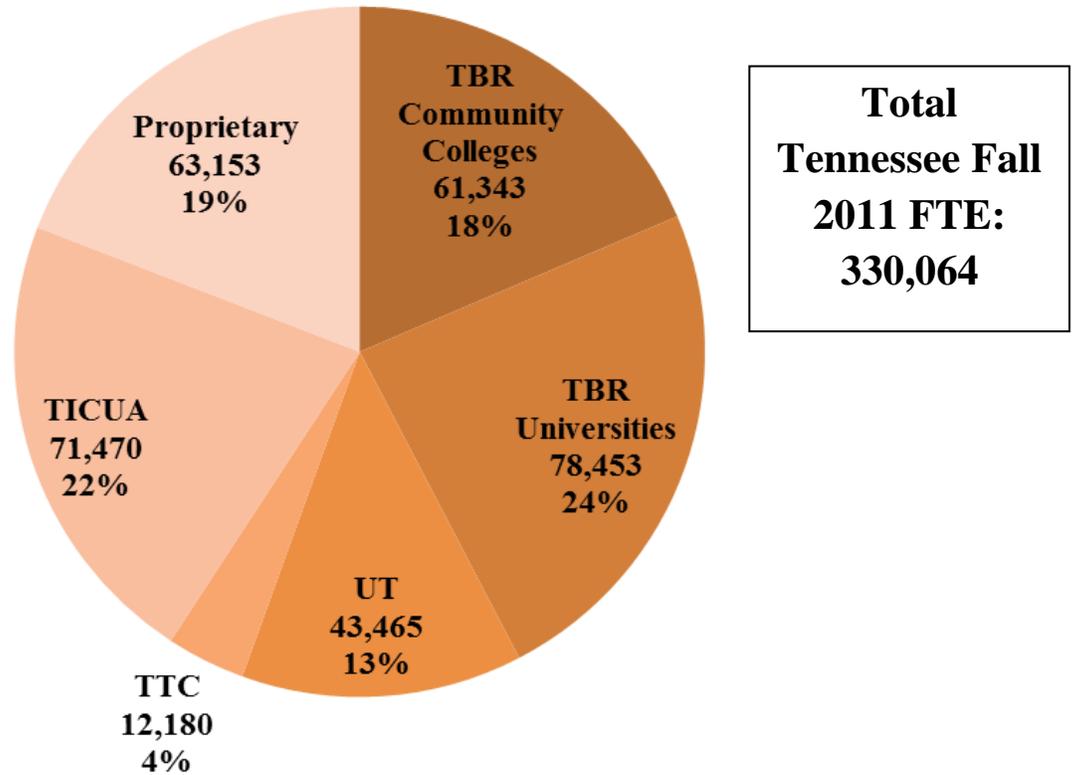

Notes: To isolate the proprietary sector's fall enrollment, the ratio of public institutions' fall enrollment to 12 month enrollment was averaged over three years (2007, 2008, and 2009). This percentage (77.86%) was then applied to the 2010-2011 headcount of the proprietary sector to derive the estimated fall headcount.

Excludes not-for-profit private institutions not participating in TICUA.

Notes: "Other" consists of Alaskan Native, American Indian, and Asian or Pacific Islander. "Multiracial" consists of any students that selected more than one race. If a student selected "Hispanic" in addition to another race, they were grouped under "Hispanic" per the federal Department of Education reporting guidelines.

Retention rates are inter-institutional within the public system.

Notes: Remedial and developmental success refers to the number of full-time and part-time students who were enrolled in any remedial or developmental course or instruction who then successfully completed college level courses in a subsequent semester within three years of their initial enrollment.

Census date is used instead of end-of-term date because THEC's inability to collect course level data makes it impossible to know if a student completed R&D courses they were enrolled in at the census date. For example, if a student is enrolled for 15 credit hours at the census date and finishes the semester with 12 credit hours, THEC is unable to determine which class the student did not complete.

The Complete College Tennessee Act enacted in January 2010 requires that Tennessee public universities stop delivering below college level courses by July 1, 2012.

Notes: Other institutions include students from public institutions and TELS recipients from private institutions. Grads from both admitting and other institutions are students who earned more than one degree in the six year period from more than one institution.

“Other” race/ethnicity consists of Alaskan Native, American Indian, Asian or Pacific Islander, and multiracial. If a student selected “Hispanic” in addition to another race, they were grouped under “Hispanic” per the federal Department of Education reporting guidelines

Notes: Within the state's Performance Funding quality assurance program, institutions are required to evaluate undergraduate and graduate programs. The accreditation process satisfies the Performance Funding requirements for programs that are eligible for accreditation. Other programs must undergo evaluation by external consultants or trained teams of auditors. Currently, 516 programs are eligible for accreditation. Eligibility is determined when all Tennessee institutions agree on a specific accreditor as best representing qualitative standards for each discipline.

State appropriations exclude dollars for capital construction and debt payments. Also excluded are funds from sources other than state tax funds, including all funds from student fees, federal sources, and local sources. Seven SREB states, excluding Tennessee, also provide significant additional local funding for higher education operations.

Notes: State appropriations are recurring general operating revenues.

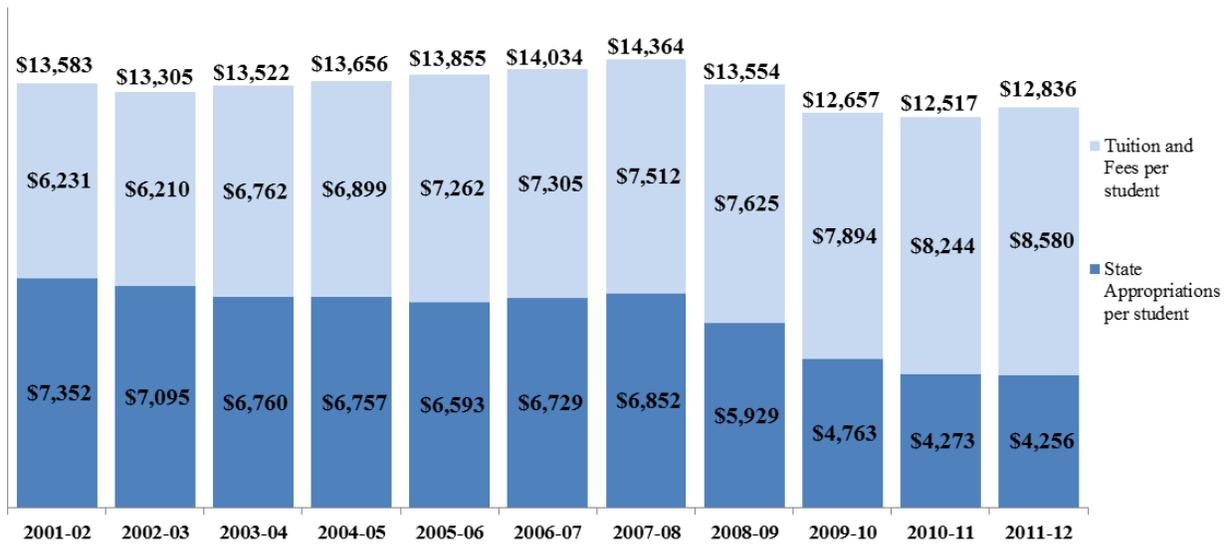

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) provided non-recurring federal funds to Tennessee higher education over the three year period from FY 08-09 to FY 10-11. ARRA also included a Maintenance of Effort (MoE) provision that required states to maintain funding for FY08-09 to FY10-11 at FY05-06 levels in order to qualify for ARRA funds.

Tuition and fees include all in-state and out-of-state tuition and mandatory fee revenues.

Dollars are adjusted for inflation to 2010-2011 dollars.

Notes: Courses are termed "e-learning" when more than 50 percent of the content is delivered electronically.

Florida four year institutions used an 80 percent rule to define e-learning, and Florida and Mississippi two year colleges used a 75 percent rule to define e-learning so figures for those states are lower than they would have been had they used the 50 percent rule.

Note: Includes state general purpose and educational special purpose appropriations to campuses.

Tennessee's increase between 2009-10 and 2010-11 in state appropriations per FTE for higher education is an anomaly, reflecting the state's decision to apply available federal stimulus funds in 2010-11 to K-12 education. An equivalent amount of state funds were used for higher education. The increase in state appropriations for higher education between 2009-10 and 2010-11 does not reflect an increase in the overall availability of state funds for college and university support.

Notes: Most college-level data are taken directly from U.S. Department of Education sources and the Common Data Set (CDS). Derived variables and aggregate figures for states, sectors, and other groupings of colleges were calculated as described under "About the Data." Student debt and undergraduate financial aid data are licensed from Peterson's Undergraduate Financial Aid and Undergraduate Databases, (c) 2011 Peterson's, a Nelnet company, all rights reserved. Cost of Attendance reflects the costs for a student living on-campus.

State rankings are from 1 (highest debt) to 50 (lowest debt). College InSight did not calculate state averages when the usable cases with student debt data cover less than 30% of bachelor's degree recipients in the Class of 2010 or when the underlying data for that state showed a change of 30% or more in average debt from the previous year. Such large year-to-year swings likely reflect different institutions reporting each year, reporting errors, or changes in methodology by institutions reporting the data, rather than actual changes in debt levels.

Section 4:

GLOSSARY

Definitions

Auxiliary Enterprise: An entity that exists to furnish goods or services to students, faculty, or staff, and that charges a fee directly related to the cost of the goods or services (essentially self-supporting). Examples include: residence halls, food services, college stores, parking garages, etc.

Census Date: The traditional date on which all degree credit headcount and full-time equivalent enrollment reports are generated for all Tennessee public institutions. Beginning Fall 2010, institutions also reported end-of-term data. However, all headcount and FTE enrollment reports are showing the historical 14th day census. Table 1.3 provides an end-of-term enrollment figure.

Degree Credit: Credit that the institution designates as regular, occupational, or certificate, extension or co-op.

Formula Units: Academic entities that derive their operating funds from the public higher education funding formula. Includes public universities, community colleges, and technology centers.

Full Time Equivalent (FTE) Enrollment: For undergraduate students, fall term FTE is the total number of credits attempted divided by 15. For graduate students, the fall term FTE is the total number of credits attempted divided by 12. For students in clock hour courses, the academic year FTE is the total number of clock hours divided by 900.

Full-Time Student: A student who is enrolled for 12 or more hours of degree credit.

Mandatory Fees: A required fee for all students.

Non-Formula Units: Non-academic entities that derive their operating funds from the public higher education funding formula. Includes all entities other than universities, community colleges, and technology centers. Examples include the UT Veterinary School, the Space Institute, and the Centers of Excellence.

Part-Time Student: A student who is enrolled for less than 12 hours of degree credit.

Restricted Current Funds: Funds expendable for operating purposes but restricted by donors or other outside agencies as to the specific purpose for which they must be expended.

Southern Regional Education Board (SREB): The nation's first interstate compact for higher education, the SREB is a coalition of educators, government officials, and civic leaders interested in advancing knowledge and improving the social and economic life of the South.

Special Student: At the undergraduate level, a student who does not hold a Bachelor's or advanced degree and who is not working toward a certificate or degree. At the graduate level, a student who holds a bachelor's degree or higher, is not working toward a degree and is not a post-doctoral student.

UT HSC FTE: The number of full time students cannot be reliably calculated based on credit hours due to the high (and variable) number of credit hours taken by students in the health professions. Many programs are year round, with 'semesters' lasting 6 months, and students are enrolled in a number of sequential courses during this period. In addition, many of the courses involve clerkship experiences requiring 40 hours per week for 4 or more weeks such that credit hours accumulate quickly. Since the curriculum is fixed for most of these programs and students proceed in a lock step manner without options to pursue coursework part time, UT HSC reports FTE based on the number of students enrolled in each of the professional programs. Exceptions that allow for part time students (e.g. in the graduate school and in Nursing) occur in some programs and are tracked for the THEC report.
